

BIGGER NAVY TO PROTECT U. S.

General Board Submits Recommendations to Secretary Daniels.

OTHER POWERS

By 1920 on Par With Other Nation Declared to Be Necessary.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Recommendations of the navy general board for the building program for the next two fiscal years, one for 1920 and one for 1921, were submitted today to Secretary Daniels. The recommendations include 19 great cruisers, five battle cruisers, and six submarines. The navy of the United States is ultimately to be equal to the navy of the world, not later than 1920, the report adds.

ultimate strength of the navy and the time when it should be achieved is a reiteration of the board's position as carried in its report to Secretary Daniels each year since 1915. Contrary to his custom for the last few years, Mr. Daniels did not make public the board's recommendations when his own annual report was released, although it was attached to that document as it went to the president. Mr. Daniels did not himself recommend any building program, withholding this for later presentation. In its recommendations, made public today at the department, the general board urged a policy of naval expansion that will guarantee protection of coast lines and the rapidly expanding merchant marine against any naval power in the world. Such protection, the board declared, can be had only by increasing American sea power to a point where it is "second to none" and maintaining it at that level.

PLAN FOR FAKIR NIGHT

Kendall Students to Prepare to Entertain Last Effort on Friday Evening.

The annual Fakirs' Night will be observed at Kendall college Friday, December 12, at 8 o'clock, with the art students in charge of festivities. The setting will be the administration building, where many booths will be placed for the event, and a vaudeville performance in the auditorium will open the "carnival of fun." Proceeds will be used to purchase equipment to replace that lost when the temporary building which housed the art department was burned recently.

Fakirs' Night, which was inaugurated at Kendall last year, proved so successful that the students voted to hold it every year. The custom was first suggested by the fakirs' night celebrations which take place annually in the great art schools of the east. Tulsans as well as Kendallites are invited to come and join in the fun, according to Miss W. Griffith, head of the art work.
